To Whom It May Concern:

We are a General Contracting company operating in the Vancouver Lower Mainland. Over the past five years we have worked consistently with Wally Lam for most of our mill-working needs.

Wally has helped our company remain competitive in the industry with both our Residential and Commercial clients by providing us a quality product for a great price.

If you are considering working with Wally we are happy to give our recommendation as he has come through for us time and time again. We rely on his experience for both custom design work and estimating for new projects. He delivers what he promises.

Please feel free to contact us for a personal reference we are happy to help Wally grow his business.

Sincerely
